State Board;

On Friday, February 26, 2010 the Court of Appeal issued a decision relative to our pending furlough appeal. Contrary to the missive written by the Sac Bee on its State Worker Blog, CCPOA DID NOT lose. As you may recall, CCPOA asked for the Court to dismiss the appeal filed by the State. They did. CCPOA also asked for the Court to treat the State appeal in a manner that would get our issue into court sooner rather than later. They did, and we will now have our case heard sooner than would have otherwise been the case. We also asked the Court to lift the stay, but they haven't ruled on this issue yet.

CCPOA filed our brief in an effort to get the case adjudicated as soon as possible, and the Appellate Court has granted such, that is all this ruling does. Once again the Sac Bee gets it wrong.
